

ACCESS, SECURITY AND VISITOR POLICY

1. Introduction

Epsom College in Malaysia (“the College”) encourages parents and other people to visit the College and believes that there are many potential benefits which can result from increased interaction with the College. At the same time, the College has a legitimate interest in avoiding disruption to the educational process, protecting the safety and welfare of the students and staff, and to protect the College’s facilities and equipment from misuse or vandalism. A balance must therefore be achieved between the potential benefits and risks associated with the presence of visitors to the College site and buildings.

Limitations may be placed on visitors to avoid disruption to College operations and to prevent visitors from receiving a distorted view of those operations. The Headmaster has the authority to determine which visits are to be permitted as well as the discretion to set any appropriate conditions on the nature and extent of such visits. In exercising his discretion, the Headmaster considers the purpose of the visit, the impact of the visitor’s presence and the relationship of any visitor to the pupils.

College personnel shall seek to ensure that parents and other visitors are courteously received and that sincere efforts are made to provide them with information as may be needed to foster a cooperative relationship between home, College and community.

Visitor access to Epsom College must comply with the requirements of the National Minimum Standards for Boarding Schools (April 2015).

This policy and its associated appendices is intended to clarify how those standards are to be met by Epsom College in Malaysia in its treatment of visitors.

2. Access to Site

Access to Epsom College is controlled via three 24 hour manned security gates.

At the present time access to the College via vehicle is only permitted by the Main Entrance on Persiaran Kolej.

Within the site, access to individual buildings is controlled by means of a digital card access entry system, or via Main Reception. Security within the site is managed at three levels:

Level 1 - Boarding Houses where there must be no unrestricted public access when pupils are present.

Level 2 - Academic areas, such as classrooms or the library, where visitors may be present accompanied by a member of staff or designated guide.

Level 3 - Public areas such as the Pizza Container cafe, Duke of York Theatre, or Playing Fields, where visitors may be present unaccompanied.

Appendix C

Guidance on Business Visitors

Summary

1. It is a fact of life that in a busy and vibrant community and working environment such as Epsom College in Malaysia that there will be visitors of all kinds to the site. It is necessary that we retain the freedom to allow visitors. However it is important that our obligation to safeguarding children is not undermined in allowing access to those visitors.
2. What this document seeks to do is to give guidance on how individuals should manage the situations that produce 'invited' visitors. It cannot envisage every possible scenario that might arise and staff should consider the particular situations in which they may need to invite business visitors on to site or be involved with situations in which business visitors might be present without prior specific invitation.
3. There is a separate guidance document at Appendix E to the Visitors Policy which covers contractors - both short and long term contractors working on the Epsom College in Malaysia site. If this is more appropriate for the particular situation you are managing please follow that guidance.

Business Visitors

4. A 'Business Visitor' is anyone invited onto the site for an expected appointment of limited duration to conduct Epsom College 'business' of whatever kind and howsoever defined.

Types of visitor - This list is not exhaustive and intended only as an indicator

Occasional	Regular
External Speaker (e.g. University institution)	Contractor (e.g. Sepang Facilities)
Visiting Referee or Umpire	Commercial Grounds Staff
Interviewees	Volunteers
Commercial Representatives (e.g. Recruitment Consultant, Supplier, Trainer)
Contractor (e.g. Maintenance, Agency Nurses.)
Auditors
Inspectors

NB: For further detail on any of the above regular visitors please see the relevant section of the main policy document.

5. It is not required by legislation, or any other statutory guidance document, to require occasional business visitors to undergo background checks or any other 'recruitment' checks. However there are 'accompaniment' expectations that the College requires to be followed.
6. It is the Epsom College in Malaysia host who must take responsibility for their visitors' activities and conduct whilst on site. All business visitors to the site MUST be accompanied whilst on site if they are visiting Boarding Houses and Academic Buildings. Epsom College in Malaysia hosts must be appropriately vetted themselves and therefore should always be a member of staff. Under no circumstances should any visitors have unsupervised access to pupils. Where unsupervised access is a possibility during the visit then all appropriate vetting checks should be carried out prior to the visit and the school deem the checks to be satisfactory. It is the responsibility of the Epsom College in Malaysia host to inform the HR Manager in good time if they envisage there being the need to allow a visitor to have unsupervised access to pupils. Ultimately it is the responsibility of Epsom College in Malaysia to check that those checks have been carried out and to risk assess the situation should there be something adverse on a background check – again prior to that person being permitted to site.

Visitor Process

7. It is the responsibility of the Epsom College in Malaysia host to ensure that the following process is used and that Reception are expecting the visitor(s).

 - f) At the end of the visit, visitor must report back to the Main College Entrance to sign out and return Visitor Pass in exchange for their ID.

8. Where it is known by an individual that they experience visitors who turn up unexpectedly they should advise those visitors that it is now College policy that all business visitors make planned appointments and pass through the usual security process. Where visitors turn up at the Main Entrance unexpectedly wishing to see individuals (e.g. commercial representatives), Reception should confirm with the member of staff whether the visitor is expected and if they are prepared to see the visitor. If the visitor is expected but Reception has not been alerted to the visitor's arrival the procedure in paragraph 7 above should be followed. If the member of staff cannot be contacted or is unable/unwilling to see the visitor, the visitor will be asked to make an appointment with the individual in question and return on the date agreed. They will not be permitted to enter the site.

Uninvited visitors

9. All staff have a responsibility to be vigilant and enquire of those they do not recognise on the nature of their business on site. Where staff have any concerns they should advise a member of the Security team immediately so that appropriate action can be taken.
10. All 'invited' business visitors to site should have reported in to Reception prior to journeying further into the site. They will have been issued with a visitors pass and should be wearing it in a prominent position.
11. Where you see someone who you do not know and who does not appear to have a visitors badge displayed it is your duty to politely ask the individual to identify themselves and to state their business. If they appear to have a legitimate reason to be on the site, they should be directed to Reception/Guard House to register and obtain a visitor's pass.

Scope

2. This guidance is intended for use where Epsom College in Malaysia employs contractors to construct new accommodation, undertake routine maintenance or emergency repairs.

Objectives

3. The objective of this guidance is to ensure that effective systems are put in place to safeguard children when building works, routine maintenance and emergency repairs are undertaken in Epsom College in Malaysia premises.

Introduction

4. The UK Department for Education (DfE) has issued guidance in its document: 'Keeping Children Safe in Education (March 2015). The guidance is mainly concerned with those who are employed to work with children. However, it also advises on those who come into contact with children on an ad hoc or irregular basis for short periods of time such as building contractors, maintenance companies, delivery personnel and the like. It cites examples of good practice where contact is on an ad hoc or irregular basis and indicates where DBS checks are not required.
5. This guidance considers what arrangements should be employed by the College where contractors are employed to work at Epsom College in Malaysia's premises.
6. Any reference to a Headmaster in this guidance should be taken to include any person that the Headmaster has designated as the person responsible for safeguarding children at the College.

Responsibilities

7. The Headmaster is responsible for the safeguarding of the children in their care and they shall be responsible for ensuring that adequate measures are in place to safeguard pupils whilst contractors are on the premises.

Safeguarding Measures

8. The aim of the safeguarding measures will be to manage the risk of harm to pupils. The measures adopted shall be proportionate to the risk. Safeguarding measures to be considered will include the following:
 - Segregate - to avoid contact* between contractors and pupils as far as possible
 - Supervise - to supervise any contact* that does take place with a member of staff or a suitably vetted volunteer
 - Code of conduct - to require contractors to observe a code of conduct
 - Regulate Access - to regulate access to the premises
 - Checks – to undertake checks where appropriate.

* 'Contact' in this context shall be taken to mean any opportunity for contractors' staff to converse with pupils or to communicate with them in any other way, e.g. by passing messages, without a member of staff or suitably vetted volunteer being able to monitor the contact and intervene where necessary.

Segregate

9. The risk of harm to pupils can be managed if contact between contractors' staff and pupils can be avoided altogether. Segregation can be achieved by physical means or by time, or by a combination of both.
10. For larger building projects lasting a number of weeks physical separation would normally be achieved by the contractors' staff working within secure areas behind fencing, hoardings, barriers and the like where pupils would be excluded for routine health and safety concerns.
11. Outside such secure areas separation can be maintained by confining the movements of the contractors' staff to specific areas and to specific times so as to avoid contact at break times and at other times pupils will be an active presence around the site (i.e. unsupervised). In this context a marked up plan agreed with the contractor to show where and at what times during the day access will be permitted would be useful.
12. For routine maintenance visits or for emergency repairs lasting less than a day physical separation can be achieved by simply confining the movements of contractors to within clearly defined areas and specific times. Should any contact between the contractors' staff and pupils occur then it should be supervised by a member of staff or suitably vetted volunteer.

Supervise

13. Measures should always be instigated to segregate contractors' staff from pupils as much as is possible. However, where such measures to segregate are in place but some contact may occur between contractors' staff and pupils then any such contact should always be supervised by a member of staff or suitably vetted volunteer.
14. As noted above, 'contact' shall be taken to mean any opportunity for contractors' staff to converse with pupils or to communicate with them in any other way, e.g. by passing messages, without a member of staff or suitably vetted volunteer being able to monitor the contact and to intervene where necessary.
15. 'Supervise' will be taken to mean the ability for a member of staff or suitably vetted volunteer to monitor conversation or communication of any kind between contractors' staff and pupils and to intervene where necessary.
16. It is not necessary to monitor the building works themselves, only any contact that might take place between the contractors' staff and pupils.

Code of Conduct

17. A code of conduct should be used to inform contractors what might be considered inappropriate behaviour. It will enable any inappropriate behaviour to be recognised and challenged by all concerned. A suggested code of conduct for contractors would be:
 - avoid contact with children
 - never be in contact with children without supervision
 - stay within the agreed work area and access routes
 - obtain permission if you need to go outside the agreed work area or access routes
 - keep staff informed of where you are and what you are doing
 - do not use profane or inappropriate language
 - dress appropriately – shirts to be worn at all times

- observe the code at all times
- remember your actions no matter how well intentioned could be misinterpreted

Any order for works or building contracts should be let with a clear condition that failure to observe the code will entitle Epsom College in Malaysia to exclude a member of a contractors' staff from the premises.

To ensure the effectiveness of any code it shall be:

- issued to contractors when quotations or tenders are invited
- stated as a condition on any order for works or building contract

Additionally, where appropriate, the code should be:

- highlighted in any pre- start meetings
- posted on the building site
- included as part of any contractors site safety briefings
- issued to contractors staff in the form of a card

Identify

18. To ensure that as far as possible only bona fide personnel are afforded access, a means of identification should be agreed with contractors in advance of any works taking place. The means by which contractors' staff are identified will be determined in each case to suit the location and nature of the work being undertaken. Typical methods may include:

- ID badges
- Photo ID
- Branded workwear
- Signing in book

Identification should only ever be used as a supplementary measure to the principal safeguarding measures of segregation and supervision.

Checks

19. Whether or not contractors' staff should undergo a background check should be determined by a risk assessment. The risk assessment should take account of the likely amount of contact that the contractors' staff might have with pupils, given that measures to segregate and to supervise should already be in place.

20. Accordingly background checks would not be required where there would be no contact between contractors' staff and pupils; for example where a building was being built on a separate site, or where the works were to be undertaken outside school hours or during school holidays.

21. Similarly, background checks would not normally be required for contractors' staff working on site building an extension or undertaking repairs where they are segregated from pupils and that any contact that did take place was supervised.

22. However, where a member of the contractors' staff is likely to have either frequent or prolonged contact with pupils then it may be appropriate to obtain a background check in addition to measures to supervise any contact. For example, a check may be appropriate where a contractors' representative (e.g. foreman, site manager, etc.) needs to liaise with Epsom College in Malaysia staff on a day to day basis.

23. A background check may also be considered appropriate in the case of a contractors' representative where such staff are responsible for ensuring compliance with other safeguarding measures such as segregation, identification, code of conduct etc.

- 24. Similarly, where contractors' staff regularly visit schools to undertake routine maintenance (boilers, electrical tests and the like) then a check may be deemed appropriate in addition to measures to supervise any contact.
- 25. Under no circumstances should a member of a contractor's staff be allowed to have any unsupervised contact with pupils, even those who have undergone a background check.

Contractor's Agreement

- 26. It shall be a requirement that any contractor working at Epsom College in Malaysia should sign to confirm their understanding of the child protection requirements (as part of the Site Rules and Conditions agreement) prior to commencing work on site at Epsom College in Malaysia.

Planning

- 27. The safeguarding measures should be determined and agreed with the contractor well in advance of the works starting on site. This will enable sufficient time for Epsom College in Malaysia staff to be briefed on the supervision required and on the access arrangements agreed with the contractor.

Summary

- 28. Wherever any type of building work is undertaken of any duration, safeguarding measures shall always be implemented and include arrangements to segregate pupils from contractors' staff as far as reasonably practicable and for any contact between them to be supervised by a member of staff or suitably vetted volunteer. Other steps such as codes of conduct, identification and checks should be considered as supplementary measures where appropriate.
